Form Three English Exam (2007-2008)
Paper V
Language Arts

Name: Fung Kam Fa, Jennie (4)

Class: 3E

When the four boys have already found the dead body, Ace and other hard men want to take it from them. Although they are in danger that Ace may hurt them badly, they are not spineless and they really share bliss and misfortune together. This is the most impressive sense to me. Friendship is so valuable between them!

'A friend in need is a friend indeed,' I always believe it. Moreover, I have to thank God for giving me such a best friend, Tina, who played a significant role in my life.

In the past, when I was confronted with difficulties, she always helped me to overcome them and she never left me alone. When I got discouraged, she always gave me lots of encouraging words to cheer me up.

By the time went on, we had a deep understanding of each other. There is really more pleasure in loving than in being loved!
